FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: NCWWDB Executive Director, Sally Cutler Announces Retirement

Wisconsin Rapids, August 2, 2010 — North Central Wisconsin Workforce Development Board (NCWWDB) today announced that its Executive Director, Sally Cutler, is retiring from the agency effective September 30, 2010. Cutler joined NCWWDB as its Executive Director in 2003.

"I will miss NCWWDB a great deal, but it's time for me to move to a new chapter in my life," Cutler said. "I'm looking forward to a greater emphasis on family and farming." Cutler plans to continue her involvement with Leadership Marshfield.

Previously, Sally directed Marshfield Clinic's Human Resource Department for 17 years, where she provided management and oversight for the education, training, and career development of over 5,000 employees.

Cutler and her husband are the Owners/Operators of Cutler's Antiques in Auburndale and live on a 237-acre farm near Milladore. She has two married daughters and four grandchildren.

Founded in 1983, NCWWDB serves nine counties in the north central part of Wisconsin. NCWWDB collaborates with many workforce development partners throughout its region to bring quality education, employment, and economic and workforce development initiatives into the area. Most importantly NCWWDB works closely with the Job Centers in WDA 6 to provide qualified, skilled workers for the area's quality, in-demand jobs.
